Raina Langlais

Rotary Scholarship Recipient

Raina will be attending Northeastern University in the fall to study Cellular Biology, a path inspired by the loss of her father to cancer in 2017.

At Danvers High School, Raina stood out both academically and athletically. She was a member of several National Honor Societies, including the Art Honor Society, and served as captain of the tennis team in her senior year. The team earned NEC All-Star honors for three consecutive years, with Raina helping lead the way in her final season.

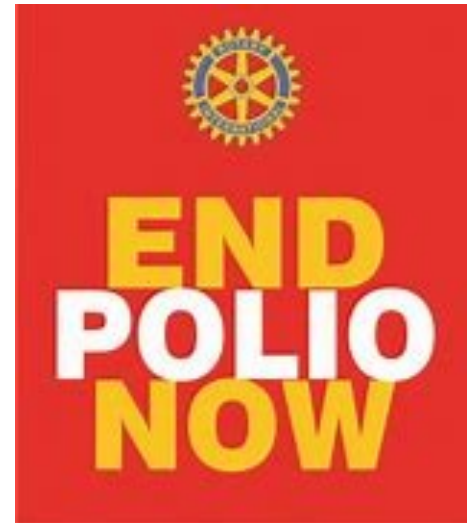

As part of a meaningful art project, she folded 1,000 origami cranes and raised over $1,000 to support cancer patients. The cranes were displayed in an infusion center at a hospital in Stoneham.

This summer, Raina is sharing her love of sports by teaching tennis and pickleball lessons through the Danvers Recreation Department.

The Danvers Rotary Scholarship was well deserved, recognizing the many ways Raina has excelled through academics, athletics, leadership, creativity, and community service.
