Guest Speaker

Maximillian Panda

Today's guest speaker is a young (8th grade) 6'5 (maybe taller) entrepreneur and philanthropist. Max has been raising money for a charitable organization based out of India called Sukarya. This organization is an educational program that teaches children from the poorest slums within India's poorest regional cities. A converted classroom school bus picks the children up in the cities and educates them on the bus. Max will be visiting India with his family next year and will deliver the funds that he has raised.

On a personal note, Max is involved in a number of sport activities, has an impressive list of accolades for education/sports and charitable causes. Max is attending the middle school in Beverly. Goal is to be a Doctor someday. He was born in Germany. His family is from both Germany and India. For more information, please visit the website linked below.
